

Online Distance Learning
Graduate Course—Spring 2010
Kansas State University

Virtual Learning: Second Life
EDCI 786

Do you want to

- Bring innovation and excitement to your classroom
- Understand how virtual worlds are used in teaching and learning
- Learn the most effective teaching methods for virtual worlds
- Address various learning styles for your students
- Learn how to teach any subject in virtual worlds
- Collaborate with educators around the world
- Engage your imagination
- Incorporate 21st Century teaching and learning strategies

This course is for

- K-12 classroom teachers, media specialists, and administrators
- Community College students, faculty and administrators
- University students, faculty and administrators
- Online learners
- YOU!

For more information contact:

Hope R. Botterbusch
K-State Graduate Faculty
esparanza2@gmail.com

Register TODAY at
[https://eis.dce.ksu.edu/CreditReg/
CourseSearch/](https://eis.dce.ksu.edu/CreditReg/CourseSearch/)

SLIDE VII

Want to Teach in Second Life?
"Virtual Learning: Second Life"
EDCI 786
Spring 2010
January 14—May 7, 2010
Kansas State University
Instructor: Hope R. Botterbusch
Esparanza Freese in SL
Click here to launch registration website