

The College of Education at Kansas State University produces more teachers than any of the other 24 teacher training programs in the state and graduates nearly 400

teachers per year

16%
of the student body is composed of multicultural students

There are currently 44 students from 20 countries enrolled.

1,130

Undergraduate Students

802

Graduate Students

87%

of undergraduate students are from

Kansas

71%

of graduate students are from

Kansas

8%

of the student body is affiliated with the military

20%

of undergraduate students are first generation college attendees

99%

of new graduates are employed, enrolled in graduate/professional school or further education, or are occupied in other non-career activities

In the last 5 years:

$2.76 million
in scholarships awarded

Education-related student organizations, including Call Me MISTER, which supports men of color pursuing a teaching degree

13

1:1 iPad to student ratio during professional coursework

Approximately 70% of candidates student teach at a distance, outside of the Manhattan/Ogden School District

EDCATS

Educators Powered by Purpose