The Conceptual Framework organizes 10 standards in professional studies into the following four categories:
1. The Learner and Learning

4. Professional Responsibility

The Conceptual Framework also includes the following dispositions:
1. Values Learning and Professional Development
2. Commits to Professional, Ethical, and Legal Conduct
3. Values Positive, Caring, and
4. Embraces Diversity, Equity, and Fairness
5. Commits to Wise and Reflective Practice

The Conceptual Framework includes the following dispositions:
1. \textit{Values Learning and Professional Development}: Dedicated to acquiring and applying new ideas about content, pedagogy, and students.
2. \textit{Commits to Professional, Ethical, and Legal Conduct}: Committed to obeying the law and abiding by institutional, state, and national professional and ethical standards.

5. Commits to Wise and Reflective Practice: Dedicated to careful reflection on instructional decisions and takes actions to improve professional competence.

Course Description
The course is designed to develop and refine advanced counseling skills related to the professional counseling skills of doctoral students in the Counselor Education and Supervision program. Doctoral students will be expected to engage in experiences that require integration of theoretical, clinical, and technical expertise in counseling while demonstrating advanced counseling and conceptualization skills. As per CACREP requirements, students will participate in a supervised doctoral-level internship of a minimum of 600 hours in counseling. The 600 hours must include supervised experiences in at least three of the five doctoral core areas with no more than 40% (or 120 hours) of the time spent in one area (counseling, teaching, supervision, research and scholarship, leadership and advocacy). Doctoral students are covered by individual professional counseling liability insurance policies while enrolled in a counseling or supervision internship. (Typically completed in two semesters, 6-credits). Supervision will be provided on a regular schedule throughout the semester. Liability insurance is required, preferably through ACA or ASCA.

Required Reading Materials (Textbook)
No textbook required; selected readings will be available on our Canvas Page per modules

Recommended Reading Materials

Methods of Instruction
Based on constructivist and experiential teaching approaches, the following methods will be utilized throughout the semester: synchronous/asynchronous lecture, virtual/remote platforms for individual/group supervision & face-to-face (physically in the same room) professional experiences, group experience, counseling techniques practice, case conceptualizations, video review/observations, and theoretical analysis while reviewing onsite practice. Discussion of relational-cultural theory will be introduced through discussion boards and applicability to supervision will be explored.

Communication Notice: The most efficient way to reach me is through EMAIL. Please allow at least a 24-hour turn-around on all emails, Sunday through Thursday. It usually will not take that long to respond, but due to other teaching and university-related duties, it is not always possible to respond to queries within a few minutes. Friday and Saturday are typically research/writing days and time for self-care, so emails on those days may take 48 hours before attended too.

Course Guidelines:
1. Attend all video-conference and online class sessions. Participate in discussions, assigned readings and questions, experiential activities, and supervision feedback. Becoming a professional counselor requires weekly supervision.
2. Review recordings, provided in our class module. Share in a discussion of the theoretical/philosophical approach used to assess, treat, interventions, diversity, advocacy, and goals of observed recording.
3. Participate in a supervised doctoral-level internship of a minimum of 600 hours in at least three of the five doctoral core areas (see above). Supervision will be provided on a regular schedule throughout the semester.
4. Read the chapters and case studies and prepare doctoral level responses using the stimulus questions provided. Discuss points via online dialogue.
5. Maintain, collect and submit electronically required documentation. This may include: progress notes of each session, case conceptualization, treatment/counseling plan, results of assessments administered, doctoral students' self-evaluation, consent to record forms, and client files.
6. Develop case conceptualizations for each of the cases that outline a theoretical foundation of individual counseling and a counseling plan that includes interventions and strategies.
7. Demonstrate professional advocacy through professional presentations of research. This will be evidenced by creating and sharing a research project to be shared in the College of Education research fair or participate in a professional development event during this semester or submit a proposal for a future professional conference.
8. At the completion of the semester, a final reflection paper will be required. This paper will be explained in our Canvas page but will reflect your thoughts and self-awareness about your experience this semester.
9. Collect to submit electronically during the semester and at the end of the semester the following:
   - Attendance in class and supervision, professionalism and engagement
   - Completion of PhD Counseling Skills Evaluation-CCS-R
   - Completion and submission of time log reflecting CACREP required hours
   - Completion of Self-reflection and Dispositions Inventory
   - Completion and submission of Conference Proposal/Presentation material for research project in COE fair or other professional development event.
   - Completion of discussion questions as assigned demonstrating insight, critical thinking, and application of ethical standards and counseling theory according to rubric posted in Canvas
   - Case Conceptualization demonstrating insight and critical thinking according to rubric posted in Canvas.

Kansas State Course Syllabi Statements

Statement Regarding Academic Honesty

Kansas State University has an Honor and Integrity System based on personal integrity, which is presumed to be sufficient assurance that, in academic matters, one's work is performed honestly and without unauthorized assistance. Undergraduate and graduate students, by registration, acknowledge the jurisdiction of the Honor and Integrity System. The policies and procedures of the Honor and Integrity System apply to all full and part-time students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate courses on-campus, off-campus, and via distance learning. A component vital to the Honor and Integrity System is the inclusion of the Honor Pledge which applies to all assignments, examinations, or other course work undertaken by students. The Honor Pledge is implied, whether or not it is stated: "On my honor, as a student, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid on this academic work." A grade of XF can result from a breach of academic honesty. The F indicates failure in the course; the X indicates the reason is an Honor Pledge violation.

Statement Regarding Students with Disabilities

At K-State it is important that every student has access to course content and the means to demonstrate course mastery. Students with disabilities may benefit from services including accommodations provided by the Student Access Center. Disabilities can include physical, learning, executive functions, and mental health. You may register at the Student Access Center or to learn more contact:
Students already registered with the Student Access Center please request your Letters of Accommodation early in the semester to provide adequate time to arrange your approved academic accommodations. Once SAC approves your Letter of Accommodation it will be e-mailed to you, and your instructor(s) for this course. Please follow up with your instructor to discuss how best to implement the approved accommodations.

Statement Defining Expectations for Classroom Conduct

All student activities in the University, including this course, are governed by the Student Judicial Conduct Code as outlined in the Student Governing Association By Laws, Article V, Section 3, number 2. Students who engage in behavior that disrupts the learning environment may be asked to leave the class.

Statement on Mutual Respect and Inclusion in K-State Teaching and Learning Spaces

At K-State, faculty and staff are committed to creating and maintaining an inclusive and supportive learning environment for students from diverse backgrounds and perspectives. K-State courses, labs, and other virtual and physical learning spaces promote equitable opportunity to learn, participate, contribute, and succeed, regardless of age, race, color, ethnicity, nationality, genetic information, ancestry, disability, socioeconomic status, military or veteran status, immigration status, Indigenous identity, gender identity, gender expression, sexuality, religion, culture, as well as other social identities.

Faculty and staff are committed to promoting equity and believe the success of an inclusive learning environment relies on the participation, support, and understanding of all students. Students are encouraged to share their views and lived experiences as they relate to the course or their course experience, while recognizing they are doing so in a learning environment in which all are expected to engage with respect to honor the rights, safety, and dignity of others in keeping with the K-State Principles of Community.

If you feel uncomfortable because of comments or behavior encountered in this class, you may bring it to the attention of your instructor, advisors, and/or mentors. If you have questions about how to proceed with a confidential process to resolve concerns, please contact the Student Ombudsperson Office. Violations of the student code of conduct can be reported using the Code of Conduct Reporting Form. You can also report discrimination, harassment or sexual harassment, if needed.

Statement Regarding Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Harassment

Kansas State University is committed to maintaining academic, housing, and work environments that are free of discrimination, harassment, and sexual harassment. Instructors support the University’s commitment by creating a safe learning environment during this course, free of conduct that would interfere with your academic opportunities. Instructors also have a duty to report any behavior they become aware of that potentially violates the University’s policy prohibiting discrimination, harassment, and sexual harassment, as outlined by PPM 3010.
If a student is subjected to discrimination, harassment, or sexual harassment, they are encouraged to make a non-confidential report to the University’s Office for Institutional Equity (OIE) using the online reporting form. Incident disclosure is not required to receive resources at K-State. Reports that include domestic and dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, should be considered for reporting by the complainant to the Kansas State University Police Department or the Riley County Police Department. Reports made to law enforcement are separate from reports made to OIE. A complainant can choose to report to one or both entities. Confidential support and advocacy can be found with the K-State Center for Advocacy, Response, and Education (CARE). Confidential mental health services can be found with Lafene Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). Academic support can be found with the Office of Student Life (OSL). OSL is a non-confidential resource. OIE also provides a comprehensive list of resources on their website.
